Be sure to get the entire horse; ears to hooves. Pull aside forelock to view entire face. • Always take photos with the sun at photographer’s back and try to minimize shadows. Choose a location where there is a minimum of background clutter. • It may be necessary to include additional photos to clearly show any markings under mane or forelock. • Clear, good quality photos showing the complete horse, void of shadows and obstructions can eliminate a later request for additional photos. • Send digital photos (if you have them) to SBHARegistrar@gmail.com.
